COMMUNICATION

The Czechoslovak Academy of Sciences and J. E. Purkyně University, Brno, continuing the tradition of Equadiff I and II Conferences, held in 1962 and 1966, will organize a Conference on Differential Equations and Their Applications, Equadiff III. The Conference will be held in Brno from 28th of August to 1st of September, 1972. At the Conference some of foreign and Czechoslovak mathematicians will deliver comprehensive lectures reviewing the ordinary and partial differential equations, numerical methods of solutions as well as applications. The participants will have the opportunity of delivering short scientific communications (15 to 20 minutes). The lectures and scientific communications will be held in one of the world languages.

During the Conference a number of entertainments will be organized for the family members of the participants, such as sightseeing tours of Brno, excursions to the surroundings, visits to theatres and concerts. There will be also excursions to Slavkov (Austerlitz), Lednice, etc.

If you are interested in attending the Conference and have not yet received Preliminary Registration Form, announce kindly your address to:
