Announcement

The Institute of Mathematics of the Czechoslovak Academy of Sciences organizes the conference on Discriminant Analysis and other methods of Data Classification and their applications. The conference will be held in the castle of Liblice from May 26 to 30, 1986.

Similar to the first DIANA conference, held at Liblice in September, 1982, DIANA II will provide an opportunity for presentation and discussion of recent results in the field of discriminant analysis, clustering techniques, factor analysis, statistical problems of classification and other methods of multivariate data analysis, and for exchange of experience with practical applications of these methods.
